Census Mirrors More Trouble for Suburban Sprawl, City Decay

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1970 Census mirrors a nation troubled by central city decay and suburban sprawl, trends which may get worse in the decade ahead.

Measured in human terms, the Census means increasing problems for cities as the more affluent flock to homes in the suburbs, leaving urban cores with declining tax bases and rising social troubles.

For the suburbs, it means an increased demand for housing, land and highways but implies problems of pollution, unplanned growth and transportation.

Releasing its final 1970 national figures Monday, the Census Bureau said population in many central cities declined sharply in the last decade.

"Declines also occurred in the decade of the 1950s, but the number of cities showing population losses in the 1960s appears to be greater than in the previous decade," the bureau recognition divorce.

Although the Pope's statement was strong, it was noted that it did not call on Catholics to try to repeal the law by referendum. This was true also of an editorial in today's Vatican daily and a statement by the Pope's vicar of Rome.

The vicar, Angelo Cardinal Dell'Acqua, said this center of Roman Catholicism was "mortified" by the legalization of divorce in Italy.

The bill's principal provision allows divorce after legal separation of five years.

Legal experts say its complexity and Italy's jammed courts could keep divorce cases in litigation for up to five years.

Attorneys expect fees to range from $640 to almost $2,000, huge amounts for Italians in the lower income brackets.

Bodies of Two Recovered

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The bodies of two Pine Bluff men were recovered from the Arkansas River near here Monday.

Authorities said a search for Lee Craig, 51, and his 21-year-old son, James, was begun Sunday when the two did not return from a duck hunting trip.

Officers speculated a boat in which the two were riding overturned and hip boots the two were wearing filled with water causing the men to sink to the bottom of the river.

Thinks Earth to Last Another Billion Years, No Need to Hurry Yet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Three Yale astronomers predict the earth will probably last for another billion years. Does this mean we don't have to rush to do our Christmas shopping early?

If you drop an idea in the office suggestion box for which your firm pays you money, you must divvy it up with Uncle Sam. The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that such bonuses are part of your pay and subject to income tax.

In Soviet Russia, now suffering a labor shortage, you're never too old to work. One of the first to respond to a government appeal for retirees to return to the labor market was a man in Uzbekistan who claimed to be 117 years old. He was given a job as a traffic policeman.

It takes a long time to pay off a battlefield. No Civil War veterans are left on U.S. federal pension rolls, but at last count the government was still paying money out to 3,900 widows and 650 dependent children left in the wake of that long ago conflict.

Isn't it a shame? It takes some 2,000 bolts to hold a car together — and only one nut to tear it apart.

Here's an irony about auto liability insurance. In an accident involving only $500 damage it may enable you to recover more than four times that amount, a survey showed, but in a case involving serious injury, it may repay you only one-sixth of your total economic loss.

Literary humor: Author H. G. Wells once donned another man's hat by mistake, liked its fit so well he kept it, and left this note behind for the owner: "I stole your hat. I like your hat; I shall keep your hat. Whenever I look inside it, I shall think of you. I take off your hat to you."

How's that again? There is some fear that most city dwellers will be totally deaf by the year 2000 if urban noise levels continue to rise at the present rate. In the last 10 years they have doubled, according to the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

Some fling: Boomerang throwing is becoming a booming sport in Australia and Canada. Using a nonreturnable curved flying stick, Australian aborigines have been known to bring down a kangaroo at 200 yards.

Man Found Guilty of Rape

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Daniel Montgomery Jr., 37, of West Helena was found guilty of first-degree rape in Circuit Court here Monday.

Montgomery, a Negro, allegedly assaulted a white junior college coed on Oct. 17, 1969, in West Helena.

The all-white jury deliberated about an hour before returning the verdict. No sentence was recommended and in such cases the death penalty is automatic.

Judge Elmo Taylor set formal sentencing for Wednesday.

Discount Rate Again Lowered

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Federal Reserve Board making another move toward easier money, the Nixon administration took aim today at wage and price increases it considers inflationary.

The four AFL-CIO unions have rejected as not enough an industry offer of the biggest wage package in rail history, $1.32 per hour over three years for workers whose current pay is variously estimated at averages between $3.45 and $3.60 hourly.

The unions said work rule changes demanded by the industry in exchange for the wage hikes would cut thousands of jobs, speed up the work pace and force many men to uproot their families and move to other cities.

The unions also want cost-of-living protection, improved vacations, holidays and other benefits. The railroads offered only improved insurance protection as a fringe benefit.

Assistant Secretary of Labor W.J. Usery has called for virtual round-the-clock talks to avert the threatened strike. The government has no further delaying procedures under the law, but Congress has stepped in several times in the past with special legislation to prevent or halt nationwide rail strikes in similar circumstances.

Delaying procedures of the law have dragged the dispute out nearly a year since the last agreement expired.

The Federal Reserve Board lowered the discount rate Monday, the amount its member banks charge for borrowing, from 5½ to 5½ per cent.

It was the second such cut in less than three weeks and signaled another possible drop in the prime interest rate, the amount large banks charge their biggest and best customers for money.

Economists said the discount rate reduction is a clear sign of easier money.

The discount rate drop, with its psychological impact on the market and effect on interest rates generally, meshed with the administration's policies to expand the economy, even though this could push inflation, to offset unemployment—among other effects.

Inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, still persists, despite monetary and spending policy restraints imposed by the administration since Nixon took office almost two years ago.

After making repeated predictions that it won't work, Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers appeared ready to try to curb inflation by the previously frowned-upon "jawbone" technique—publicly criticizing large wage and price increases.

Up to now, the administration has rejected all proposals for an "incomes policy," a term that covers all types of noncompulsory presidential pressure to hold down inflationary wage and price boosts.

Springlike Weather to Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm, springlike weather is expected to continue in Arkansas through Wednesday.

Highs Monday climbed into the 70s across the state and similar readings were expected today and Wednesday.

A 62-degree reading this morning at Little Rock is the warmest minimum temperature ever recorded in the Arkansas Capitol on Dec. 1. The previous record of 61 was set in 1922.

No precipitation is mentioned in the forecast through Wednesday.

Lows tonight are expected in the upper 40s and mid 50s.

Overnight low temperatures included 62 at Fayetteville, 62 at Harrison, 60 at Jonesboro, 59 at Pine Bluff, 63 at Texarkana, 59 at El Dorado, 61 at Memphis, 62 at Little Rock and 64 at Fort Smith.

No rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m.

Rail Unions Set Strike for Dec. 10

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four railroad unions have set a nationwide rail strike for 12:01 a.m. Dec. 10 unless they win a settlement on wages and working conditions for nearly 500,000 workers.

"We hope to be able to settle it without a strike but we are going to be prepared," President Charles Luna of the United Transportation Union said of strike plans. "We could get them out in a matter of hours."

The strike threat was the first by Luna's union, the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and the Hotel and Restaurant Employees, and moved up by one day the earlier Dec. 11 strike date of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. The Clerks' union agreed to the new strike date.

The four AFL-CIO unions have rejected as not enough an industry offer of the biggest wage package in rail history, $1.32 per hour over three years for workers whose current pay is variously estimated at averages between $3.45 and $3.60 hourly.

Health Care Accounts for $7 Out of Every $100, Still Soaring

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spending on health care — still soaring—now accounts for $7 out of every $100 expended for all the nation's goods and services, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said today.

Mills said official figures soon to be made public will show this proportion, reflecting the fact that in the last four years medical care prices have increased almost twice as fast as prices for all consumer items.

Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles legislation relating to the two major government health programs, Medicare and Medicaid.

His remarks were prepared for a meeting of Westinghouse Co. executives.

The committee is expected to be under growing pressure next year to convert the existing government programs into a universal health insurance system.

While Mills did not mention such proposals, his talk could be read as a caution against large expansion of government health services while the country still faces big budget deficits.

He said legislation passed by the House and now awaiting Senate action can help slow the rise of medical costs.

FHA Drops Mortgage Rate Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration announced today a reduction in the ceiling on government-insured home mortgages from 8½ per cent to 8 per cent.

"The sharp decline that has already taken place in other interest rates and the general outlook for rates finally makes possible a lower FHA mortgage ceiling without causing either an undue rise in mortgage discounts or undue disruption in the flow of funds available to FHS mortgages," said Secretary George Romney, of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The 8½ per cent ceiling has been in effect since last Jan. 5. The lower rates takes effect immediately, Romney said.

It will apply to all home mortgage guarantees in the future but not to the $68 billion in FHA mortgages already outstanding.

Romney urged local lenders to charge lower rates than the national ceiling wherever possible.

Romney said the lower ceiling will allow his department to insure 12,000 more mortgage and rent subsidy housing units than originally planned for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

Cause of death had not been determined.

Housing Grant to University

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Monday the Housing and Urban Development Department has approved a $32,400 debt service reservation grant to the housing program at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

This brings to $90,100 the amount reserved for the program to allow the university to advertise bonds for construction of a new three-story student union facility.

Two Picked by McClellan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Monday that high school students Gregory D. Hawkins of Springdale and Stephen M. Leslie of Marianna had been selected to represent Arkansas in the 1971 U.S. Senate youth program.

Each will receive a $1,000 college scholarship, a grant made possible by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation.

Southern State College choir will present its winter concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Dolph Camp Recital Hall...members of the choir include Gary Glasgow of Nashville...Amy Harris and Paul Powell of Hope.

A personal note to little Miss Sydney Tye of Emmet Rt. 1—Your letter to Santa Claus has been received and be assured it will be given to the Old Gentleman from the North Pole.

October sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Hempstead were $11,142 making the year $104,759 which is 56.6 per cent of the $185,000 quota...Howard sales were $6,151, the year $83,713 which is 76.1 per cent of the $110,000 quota...Lafayette sales of $4,195 made the year $52,454 which is 80.6 per cent of the $65,000 quota...Nevada County $6,342, the year $62,518 which is 113.6 per cent of the $55,000 quota.

The Arkansas Razorback basketball team opens its season tonight against Missouri and Station KXAR will broadcast the game starting at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Dee McMurrough, Hempstead County Christmas Seal Chairman of this year's campaign by the Arkansas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, announces that as of Nov. 20 some $1,071 has been raised...the quota is $1,000.

Wants to Fire About 6,000 State Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin said Monday that by firing 25 per cent of the state's employees, $25 to $30 million could be saved each year.

Bell suggested that about 6,000 employees — about the number hired by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller — be fired.

The senator complained that state employees do not always work a full 40-hour week. He said legislators have complained "they can't find a state agency open after 4 o'clock in the afternoon."

With data processing and other labor-saving devices, the state should be able to get by with 25 per cent fewer workers, Bell said.

Embezzlement Trial Starts

U.S. Medical Station Hit by Rockets

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — An enemy rocket wrecked an American medical station in South Vietnam Monday killing or wounding the entire staff, and in Phnom Penh a bomb exploded in the U.S. Embassy at dawn but injured no one.

Meanwhile, the Viet Cong announced its forces would observe three-day cease-fires in Vietnam for Christmas and New Year's and a four-day cease-fire during the Tet festival of the Lunar New Year at the end of January. South Vietnamese government sources said the allies would declare cease-fires for the same holidays but would not announce them until shortly before each holiday. They will probably be only 24 hours each.

The medical dispensary was smashed during a 20-round rocket barrage on the Chu Lai base camp, headquarters of the U.S. Americal Division 50 miles south of Da Nang. It was the first rocket or mortar attack on Chu Lai since June 19.

Field reports said one of the 100-pound missiles tore through the roof of the first aid station about 4 p.m. The reports said there were no patients in the dispensary, but less than a dozen Americans on the staff were killed or wounded. The U.S. command's security regulations prohibit disclosing specific casualty figures in such attacks.

More Weapons Seized at State Prison

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State Police confiscated a "large quantity" of knives, chains and various other weapons during a surprise inspection Monday at Cummins Prison Farm.

Sgt. Jim Wooten, State Police public information officer, said troopers searched four of the eight inmate barracks at Cummins before calling off the search.

Wooten said a search would be conducted in the other four barracks and on the ones searched Monday in the "near future."

Col. Bill Miller of the State Police said state Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver had given approval to State Police to conduct periodic and unannounced searches at the prison.

Miller said Monday's inspection followed a rather hurried search a week ago Sunday that was made after three days of racial fights among inmates at Cummins.

Troopers were equipped with metal detectors to aid in the search.

Warns SST Could Alter the Weather

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department has urged developers of the supersonic transport plane to heed warnings that the SST could seriously alter the world's weather.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said the report raises such serious questions he will seek a delay in the Senate vote scheduled later this week to appropriate $290 million to continue work on SST prototypes.

The Interior Department questioned whether water vapor from the SST's exhausts would change climatic conditions in polar regions and eventually around the globe.

A similar environmental question was raised Sunday by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Ill., who said a projected fleet of 500 to 700 SSTs by the 1980s could destroy a portion of the ozone shield in the upper atmosphere which protects the earth from ultraviolet radiation.

The nation grew by more than 25 million persons between 1960 and 1970, to 204.7 million.

"Suburbanites now outnumber those living in central cities," the bureau said. More than three-fourths of the growth occurred in metropolitan areas, "with suburban rings showing rapid and substantial population growth."

Preliminary figures released earlier remained true indicators. They showed that 13 of the 25 largest cities had lost population, including Chicago, Detroit and Baltimore.

But, while population in many core cities dropped, the flight from the nation's countryside to metropolitan areas continued. The farm population, for example, declined by one-third since 1960, from about 15 million to 10 million.

The trend toward creation of megalopolises, groups of vast population centers stretching across state lines in an almost unbroken pattern, continued.

For example, in the dense corridor along the East Coast, more than one-sixth of the nation's people now live in a 450-mile strip running from Boston to Washington along the Atlantic Ocean and stretching 150 miles inland.

The Census showed too a people in search of warmer weather and water.

Migration patterns were from midcountry out, with coastal areas continuing to grow.

California led the nation in population growth, picking up four million, while Florida, Texas and New York also grew substantially.

The final count for the nation was 204,765,770, including U.S. servicemen and federal employees and their dependents living abroad.

Within the U.S. borders, the population was 203,184,772, compared with 179,323,175 in 1960.

Nevertheless, the percentage growth—13.3—was the lowest since the depression decade of the 1930s, reflecting increased concern by U.S. citizens over population problems.

One of the most practical results from the new census findings—and one of the main reasons the population counting was started in 1970—will be the reapportionment of Congress.

Under the new census, the 93rd Congress will have a slightly different complexion when it meets in January 1973—California will have the most seats in the House with 43, a gain of five, while New York will drop to second with 39, a loss of two.

Florida gains three new seats while Texas, Arizona and Colorado all pick up one more delegate in the House.

The other losers are Pennsylvania, 2; and Alabama, Iowa, North Dakota, Ohio, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wisconsin, all losing one.

Welfare Asks No Increase Until 1972

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Welfare Commissioner Len E. Blaylock told the Arkansas Legislative Council Monday the Welfare Department seeks no increase in its budget for the next fiscal year, but asks an increase of about $8 million in the following year.

Blaylock said the welfare program would be expanded without a budget increase, thanks to a $6.4 million fund balance that will be turned over to the administration of Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers.

The budget of the department in the current fiscal year is about $31 million, which is the state's share of a welfare program amounting to about $183 million, most of it from the federal government.

The fund balance piled atop the same budget in fiscal 1971-72 as this year would yield a welfare program of about $219 million, Blaylock said.

The $8 million budget increase requested for fiscal 1972-73, making the state's share about $40.3 million in that fiscal year, would result in a welfare program of about $238 million, he said.

Legislators asked Blaylock if another welfare increase could be given from the fund balance, which is entirely general revenue funds. Blaylock said an increase could be given, but that using the balance in that manner would make it necessary for the department to request a budget increase for the coming fiscal year.

The most recent welfare increase was $6 monthly, granted this year.

Blaylock said that tinkering with the welfare proposal he outlined might jeopardize a program he proposed to increase bid for payment of prescription drugs for the needy.

A state appropriation of $1.5 million could result in an $8 million prescription medicine program, he said.

Alan Rosenthal, professor of political science at Rutgers University and director of the Eagleton Center of Legislative Research and Service at Rutgers, was to talk to the council today about the possibility of making a study of the Arkansas legislature.

Senate Sends Aid Bill to Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent into conference a foreign aid money bill containing $2.2 billion for economic and military aid, restoring much of the administration-requested funds cut by the House.

The bill was approved on a roll-call vote of 44 to 31, then sent to the conference committee where differences with the House bill must be worked out. The House supplied only $1.64 billion for economic and military aid.

The Senate Appropriations Committee restored $540 million cut by the House. Dropped by the Senate was $272.5 million voted for by the House for the foreign military credit sales program. The Senate's bill would provide $1.8 billion for economic aid and $540 million in military aid, excluding money earmarked for Thailand, South Vietnam and Laos.

In addition to the aid funds, the bill includes $1.9 billion for a variety of other foreign activities, including $1.5 billion for the International Monetary Fund subject to approval of an IMF authorization and $94.5 million for the Peace Corps. The overall total in the measure is $4.14 billion.

Insurance Hikes Granted Two Companies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Insurance Department Monday granted automobile insurance rate increases to Horace Mann Mutual Insurance Co. and Aetna Casualty & Surety Co.

Insurance Commissioner Gene Sykes said the public had to recognize there were restrictions on the market availability of automobile insurance in the state and that to continually deny requests of increases could force insurance companies to stop selling policies in the state.

Horace Mann restricts its policyholders to members of the Arkansas Education Association.

Horace Mann asked for an over-all increase of 20.2 per cent because of "increased replacement car parts, increased medical costs, increased labor costs and all of the factors which are present in an inflationary economy."

Aetna, which insures between two and three per cent of the state's policyholders, was granted an over-all increase on its basic auto policies of 16.7 per cent, 1 per cent less than had originally been asked.

No Guarantee for Union, Ford Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co. say there is still no guarantee they will agree on a contract in time to avoid a strike next Monday.

There had been reports that they were in virtual agreement, but Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said Monday:

"Unless things change between now and Dec. 7, we will face a sticky situation. It's a long way from in the bag."

UAW Ford department head Ken Bannon, commented that "there are quite a few problems and unless they are resolved we will have some very serious problems come Dec. 7."

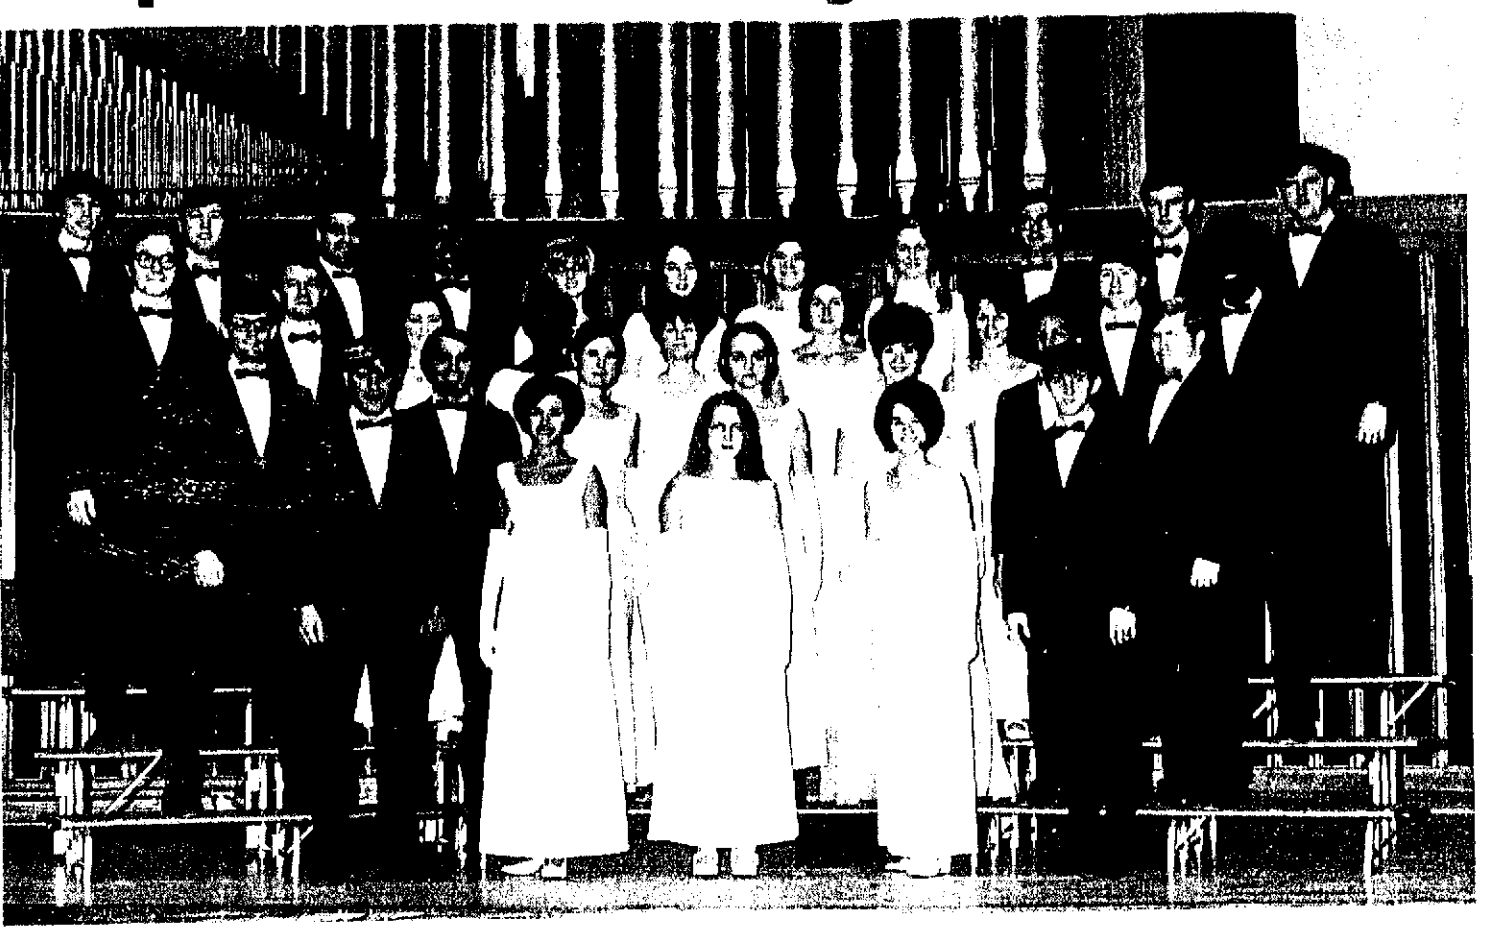

Holding up settlement, bargainers said, were both economic and noneconomic issues.

Meanwhile, UAW President Leonard Woodcock journeyed to Toronto for talks with General Motors of Canada, Ltd. aimed at ending a strike by some 23,000 Canadian workers which continued after the U.S. settlement last week.

In the Canadian talks, the union is demanding that cost-of-living wage increases be based on the U.S. Consumer Price Index while the company insists its Canadian equivalent be used.

General Motors continued to work toward resumption of full production in the United States. By Monday 140 of 155 GM-UAW bargaining units had approved local pacts.

Bryant Lists Expenses at $9,869

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant reported Monday expenditures of $9,869 in his successful campaign for a fifth term.

The report covers expenditures of the general election campaign only. He was unopposed in the Democratic primary and defeated Republican Jim Sheets of Siloam Springs in the general election.

Most of the money was spent for advertising, according to Bryant's report filed with the secretary of state's office as required by the Arkansas election code.

jump into the water after the cutter Vigilant and the Soviet vessel separated. They were moored side by side near Martha's Vineyard, Mass., for a discussion of North Atlantic fishing rights.

The State Department advised the Coast Guard not to encourage the sailor and to beware of a trap which could embarrass the United States if the defection was phony.

The sailor changed his plans and jumped while the ships were still tied together. During the 10 hours of negotiations that followed, the captain of the Soviet boat accused the defector of stealing $2,000 from the ship's fund and Rear Adm. William B. Ellis, commander of the Coast

Guard's 1st District at Boston, ordered the man returned. Witnesses said the sailor resisted and was beaten by Soviets and dragged aboard the fishing boat. "I do not approve of the use of force on a Coast Guard ship by personnel of another nation, but do recognize that considerable force was required as the defector was resisting strongly," said the chief of the Coast Guard, Adm. Chester R. Bender.

Revenue Gains Very Slight

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Revenue Department said Monday that revenue collections in November made only a slight increase over the same month in 1969.

General revenues increased $689,461, according to the department's monthly report. The November collections totaled $17,686,864, compared with $16,997,403 in November 1969.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. OLIN LEE HARN, III

In a setting of spiral candlelight and greenery with baskets of burgundy-colored roses, Miss Eva Katherine Thrash became the bride of Olin Lee Harn, III at the First Baptist Church, Saturday, November 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Edgar Thrash, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Lee Harn, Jr. of Houston.

Dr. S. A. Whitlow performed the double-ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Gerald Trussell. Mrs. H. A. Spraggins, organist, played a program of nuptial music accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lowell McBroom of Amarillo, cousin of the bride. She sang "Eternal Life" and "The Wedding Prayer." Before the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Misses Sandra and Susan Voris of Midland, Tex., nieces of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta designed with a full skirt, a fitted bodice and long sleeves which ended in lily points over the hands. The re-embroidered Chantilly lace was lavishly encrusted with seed pearls and loops of crystal beads around the neckline and down the front panel of the skirt. The cathedral-length train was applied with lace motifs and fell from the waist. Her mantilla of French illusion and lace hung gracefully from a small prayer cap. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and her Grandmother Butcher's wedding ring. She carried white roses and stepanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Richard Voris of Midland, Tex., sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Her full-length dress of pink crepe had a bolero of burgundy lace. It had a stand-up collar and long sleeves trimmed with burgundy lace. In her hair she wore a burgundy bow with velvet droplets, and she carried a large pink gladiolus.

Dressed in similar fashion were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Hugh Brown of Dallas, sister of the bride, Miss Betty Whaley of Little Rock, Miss Debbie Watson, Mrs. Don Purdy of Crowley, Tex., and Miss Missy Pielop of Houston.

Billy Pielop of Houston served the groom as best man.

Groomsmen, who also served as ushers were Larry and Terry Harn of Houston, brothers of the groom, Hugh Brown of Dallas, Richard Voris of Midland, Tex., and Al Maenche of Rantoul, Ill.

A cousin of the bride, Melvin Thrash, seated her mother before the ceremony. Mrs. Thrash wore a mint green costume dress trimmed with lace, and she had bone accessories.

Escorted by her son, Terry, Mrs. Harn was attired in a pearlized blue dress with matching accessories. Each mother had a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Olin Harn and Mrs. Mable Manuel, of the Dallas-Fort Worth area, had rose corsages.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Hubert Thrash greeted the guests and introduced them to the wedding couple, their parents and attendants.

Burgundy and pink decorations were used in the reception room, where the serving table was in the shape of a cross. The four sections held the four-tiered wedding cake, the groom's chocolate cake, a punch bowl and a silver coffee urn. Mrs. W. H. Peterson, pianist, played appropriate music throughout the reception.

Miss Pat Phillips of Houston presided at the bride's book. Those serving the guests and dispensing hospitality were Mrs. Ray Lawrence, Mrs. Larry Harn of Houston, Mrs. John Scott Andrews of Little Rock, Miss Gay Chapman of Dallas, Mrs. James Jones of Rye, Ark., Mrs. Jewel Moore, Jr., Mrs. Larry Williams of Eudora, Mrs. Melvin Thrash, Mrs. Joe Purvis of Shreveport, Miss Nora Rischer of Camden, Miss Debbie Moore, Miss Pat Westbrook, Miss Junanne Reynolds, Miss Jane Thomas of Little Rock, and Miss Carol Hargis of Warren.

Rice bags were distributed by Misses Sandra and Susan Voris of Midland, Tex., and Miss Cindy Harn of Mississippi.

For a short wedding trip, the bride donned a slate blue dress trimmed in white and gray. With it she wore navy accessories and pinned her wedding orchid at her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Harn will be at home in Houston, where he is senior accountant with Arthur Andersen and Company.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday, November 27 Mr. and Mrs. Olin Lee Harn, Jr. of Houston entertained with a rehearsal dinner at the Town and Country for the Thrash-Harn wedding party and immediate families.

For the dinner the bride-elect, Miss Kathy Thrash, wore a beige lace costume dress. The wedding colors, burgundy and pink,

HE'S ALL GREEK TO HER

Dear Helen:

I've been going out with a Greek guy for a year now, and he and Mrs. John Nix and family in Texarkana.

Meredith Muncie of Annadale, Va., visited her Hendrix College classmate, Ginny Gardner, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner during the recent holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nix have returned from San Antonio, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodriguez and family.

Mr. and Mrs. David Pack and sons, Pine Bluff, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raley.

Mrs. L.L. Middlebrooks, Shreveport and Mrs. Corley Tedder, Texarkana, returned Dale Middlebrooks home Sunday, and they visited Webb Laseter and Mary Anita.

Mrs. J.I. Johnston, Ashdown, was the Thanksgiving guest of her sister, Mrs. Dannie Hamilton, and Mr. Hamilton.

seems serious, but he has a habit of keeping in touch with his old girl friends by phone, and also spending at least two nights a week living it up without me.

He thinks this is fine, even after marriage, as Greek men like their women at home, but don't expect to stay there themselves—nor should they be questioned.

What burns me is that he'll call to see if I'm at home, while he's out on the town. He figures every guy wants to date me, even if they only say "Hi!" and if I am away when he calls, he threatens to leave me.

How can I Americanize him and not lose him? — DESPERATE

Dear Des:

Let's put it this way: If you don't "Americanize" his Greek double standard, you'd BETTER lose him! Tell him you don't intend to be a "ten steps behind and barefooted female" and prove it by going out each time he does. —H.

Dear Helen:

I'm afraid to discuss my problem with anyone I know.

Please tell me: Am I abnormal to feel the way I do about my girl friend? I've never dated boys. At almost 16 I'm still uneasy around them. But each time my best friend comes near or touches me accidentally, something happens that I can't explain. I know she doesn't feel this crazy kind of attraction to me, and I'm scared. —

WORRIED

Dear Worried:

I'd peg you for a perfectly normal girl whose problem is shyness mixed with hero-worship. Before dating begins, young people are often temporarily attracted to members of their own sex. Being afraid of boys (or of your ability to get them interested) you've made this girl friend your idol. And of course your worry makes you over-react.

Antidote? A boy who likes you! My IGAP ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") says he's waiting in your English class. —H.

Dear Helen:

My fiances and I are very much in love; who wouldn't be if they're planning on getting married?

I'm out of high school and have a good job, but she has one more year to go. You might think that 17 and 18 are too young for marriage, but Helen, we just can't wait any longer. We are sensible and we know how to budget. We can live on my salary and she can keep on going to school. We're putting money in the bank every month and figure in two months we'll be ready.

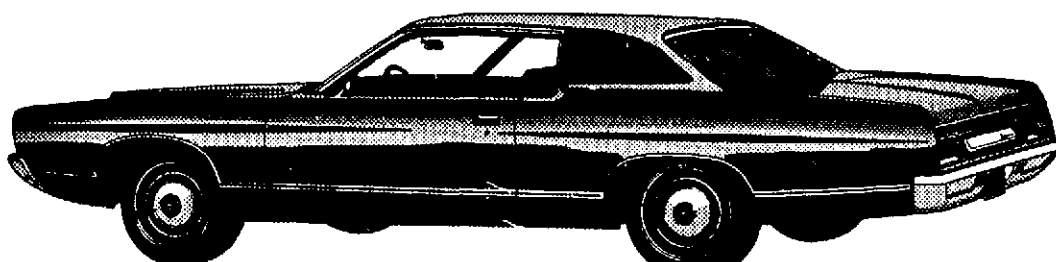

But we're afraid to tell our folks. They know we're engaged, but they want us to wait a year or so. If we ask them to sign for us, they might make us stop seeing each other and we couldn't stand that.

Helen, please print this so our folks will read it and maybe they'll see our side. —KNOW WHAT WE'RE DOING

Dear KWWD: Duly printed. Just call me Mrs. Cupid. (But remember, the odds are pretty rough: One out of every two teen-age marriages fails.) —H.

Hope Teams Win Pair at Nashville

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last night, in two thrilling games at Nashville, the Hope Bobkittens edged the Nashville Scrappers, 37-32, and the Kittycats defeated the Scrapperettes, 42-34.

Both junior high squads will host Prescott on Thursday, with the girls game starting at 6:30 p.m. This is the first junior high home game of the season.

Lifting their record to 1-1, the Kittycats used a fine defensive effort by Carol Frazier, Mona Rowe, and Sharon Ratliff to halt the Scrapperettes big scoring threats to challenge the lead.

Hope scored first on a bucket by Gigi Gladney with only 45 seconds played. Two more buckets each by Gladney and Karlene Coleman tied the score at 10 all, after Nashville had rocketed back to take the lead.

Moving into the second period of play, Gladney hit a two pointer and afterwards Hope led all the way, with a quick scoring offense countered by a ball controlling defense.

Seconds later, leading by one, 14-13, Kittycat Jill Herring sunk two through the hoop, followed by Gladney and Coleman, and minutes later, Hope held a 23-16 halftime lead.

Moving once again in the third quarter, Gladney once again started the fireworks, but with 3:57 left, Jennie Spigner hit a rim roller for Nashville to fix the score at 26-20, in favor of Hope.

Three points by Coleman closed out the quarter with the Kittycats leading, 29-20.

Hitting four free throws and a basket, Hope held a 35-24 margin, after Spigner scored four for Nashville.

Shooting on even terms, Coleman and Gladney kept up the Kittycats lead the rest of the way the defense yielded just eight points.

For Hope, Gladney sacked 20 points, Coleman netted 17, and Herring hit five, while Spigner led Nashville with 27.

In the second game, the Bobkittens used some good rebounding and close up shots to aid in the victory, jumping their season record to 2-0.

Hope took the tipoff and immediately Gary Rhodes ripped off four points for the Kittens. See-sawing back and forth, the Kittens led 9-8 at the first quarters' end with the shooting of David Huddleston.

Three points early in the second period gave Nashville a brief lead before Jimmy Smith tied the score, and then seconds later both teams traded free throws for tie score at 13 all.

Four more points each left the score knotted at 17 each with one half to go.

Smith put Hope in the lead early in the third quarter, 18-17 but two minutes later trailed by one. Closing out the quarter though, Huddleston and James Martin each popped the net twice to give the Kittens a 28-25 lead with one quarter to play.

Each team hit seven points in the last period in a point for point chase.

Two goals by Smith and one by Marshall Scott, after Danny Thompson hit two goals for Nashville, gave the Kittens a 34-29 lead with 2:34 left to play.

Only six more points were scored and three of those were scored by Hope for a thrilling Bobkitten victory.

Huddleston led Hope with 18 points, followed by Smith with seven, Martin getting five, and Rhodes with four. Thompson led Nashville with 14 points.

Tonight the Hope Bobcats and Ladycats will host Prescott, with

Porkers Are 4th, Texas Still First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas and Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas might have found a way to beat Notre Dame last week, but upper-most on their minds now is how to beat each other.

Top-ranked Texas and No. 4 Arkansas clash Saturday with the rankings, the Southeast Conference title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl at stake.

However, with Notre Dame the other team in the Cotton Bowl, Royal and Broyles flew to Los Angeles together for a look at the Irish, just in case. They saw the Cotton Bowl lose some of its luster when Notre Dame lost to Southern California 38-28. The defeat dropped the Irish from fourth to sixth place in the weekly Associated Press major college football poll Monday.

Texas, 9-0, after clobbering Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day, easily retained its top ranking with 23 first place votes and 788 points in the balloting of sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation.

Still, with Texas still faced with Arkansas and, if it wins, Notre Dame on New Year's Day, any number of teams still have a shot at No. 1, including the Irish. The final poll is taken after the bowls.

Ohio State, holding onto its No. 2 ranking with 12 top votes and 752 points, will be playing in the Rose Bowl, while Nebraska, still No. 3 with five first place votes and 702 points, plays in the Orange Bowl. Ohio State is 9-0 and Nebraska 10-0-1.

And should all three falter, there is Arkansas, Tennessee, Notre Dame and Michigan, all 9-1. Arkansas jumped from fifth to fourth place this week, Tennessee moved from seventh to fifth, and Michigan rose from eighth to seventh. Tennessee plays in the Sugar Bowl, but still has to get by UCLA Saturday, while Michigan is finished. Louisiana State, 8-2, dropped from sixth to eighth place despite a 26-14 victory over Tulane, but the Tigers can convince a lot of people Saturday against Mississippi. A victory also would put them in the Orange Bowl and leave the Texas-Arkansas loser without a date on New Year's Day.

Arizona State, 9-0, remained ninth and has games left against Arizona Saturday and in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina. Auburn, 8-2, climbed from 11th to 10th after beating Alabama.

Mississippi was the only team to drop out of the Top Ten this week after losing to Mississippi State last Saturday. The Rebels fell to 16th.

Southern Cal's victory rocketed the 6-4-1 Trojans into the Top Twenty at No. 17. The rest of the Second Ten included Air Force, No. 11; Stanford, No. 12; Georgia Tech, No. 13; Toledo, No. 14; Dartmouth, No. 15; Penn State, No. 18; Northwestern, No. 19 and Oklahoma, No. 20.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9 etc:

1. Texas (23) 788
2. Ohio State (12) 752

6. Notre Dame 415

A victory also would put them in the Orange Bowl and leave the Texas-Arkansas loser without a date on New Year's Day.

Arizona State, 9-0, remained ninth and has games left against Arizona Saturday and in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina. Auburn, 8-2, climbed from 11th to 10th after beating Alabama.

Mississippi was the only team to drop out of the Top Ten this week after losing to Mississippi State last Saturday. The Rebels fell to 16th.

Southern Cal's victory rocketed the 6-4-1 Trojans into the Top Twenty at No. 17. The rest of the Second Ten included Air Force, No. 11; Stanford, No. 12; Georgia Tech, No. 13; Toledo, No. 14; Dartmouth, No. 15; Penn State, No. 18; Northwestern, No. 19 and Oklahoma, No. 20.

Angels and Senators Top Traders

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California and Washington, baseball's most active wheeler-dealers since the end of the 1970 season, have set the early pace at the winter meetings, the Angels by swinging another 3-for-3 trade and the Senators with the acquisition of another controversial player.

The Angels, who had obtained slugger Tony Conigliaro from Boston in a six-player trade during the World Series, dealt for defense Monday and landed veteran outfielder Ken Berry from the Chicago White Sox in a 3-for-3 swap.

Ted Williams' Senators, who have taken on Denny McLain and Curt Flood in the past two months, rescued third baseman Joe Foy from minor league exile during the draft session that kicked off the annual conclave.

Relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, 47-year-old elder statesman of the major leagues, returned to Atlanta after a brief fling with the Chicago Cubs and Moe Drabowsky, another veteran reliever, departed the world champion Baltimore Orioles for the second time within two years in other early trade developments.

With Conigliaro and American League batting king Alex Johnson set at the corners of the California outfield, Angels' General Manager Dick Walsh went shopping for a standout middle man.

After failing to lure Paul Blair from Baltimore or Mickey Stanley from Detroit, he came up with Berry, an exceptional glove man whose .276 batting average last season was a six-year career high.

The White Sox also sent infielder Syd O'Brien and pitcher Billy Wynne to the Angels, receiving center fielder Jay Johnstone, pitcher Tom Bradley and catcher Tom Egan in exchange.

Bradley, called up from the minors in mid-season, had a 2-5 won-lost record with the Angels. Johnstone and Egan each batted .238 for California. O'Brien had a .247 average and Wynne was 1-4 for the White Sox.

Washington picked up Foy from Tidewater of the International League for the $25,000 draft price in one of the least active selection sessions ever.

A year ago, Foy, a 27-year-old speedster, was acquired to bolster the defense of the 1969 world championship.

But Foy, who cost the Mets two promising youngsters-outfielder Amos Otis and pitcher Bob Johnson—in that trade, batted just .236, had troubles in the field and fell out of favor with Manager Gil Hodges. He rode the bench in the last two months of the season.

The Mets, who fell to a third place finish in the National League East, assigned him outright to their Tidewater farm club in October, thereby exposing him to the draft.

Only eight players were drafted by major league clubs, compared with 19 selected last December at Miami.

The San Diego Padres, with the No. 1 pick, took left-handed pitcher Bill Laxton from Philadelphia's Eugene, Ore., affiliate in the Pacific Coast League. Laxton 22, was 1-3 with Eugene and 6-5 with Reading, Pa., in the Eastern League.

Wilhelm, who has worked more games than any pitcher in major league history, was reacquired by the Braves in a deal that sent first baseman Hal Breeden, plus cash, to the Cubs.

Atlanta sent Wilhelm to Chicago last September during the NL stretch drive. He got into three games with the Cubs, after pitching in 50 with the Braves, for a lifetime total of 1,042 appearances.

Breeden batted .293 for the Braves' Richmond farm in the International League, belting 37 homers and knocking in 116 runs.

The Orioles dealt Drabowsky, 35, to St. Louis for utility infielder Jerry Davanon in the day's first trade. Drabowsky went from Baltimore to Kansas City in the 1968 expansion draft and was traded back to the Orioles last summer.

The Cubs actually were the most active traders with three deals, but two were of the lower level variety.

They sent Willie Smith, a part-time outfielder-first baseman, to Cincinnati for minor league catcher Danny Breeden-outfielder Roe Skidmore and pitcher Dave Lemonds and Pat

Ali in New York Raving and Ranting

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Muhammad Ali's first New York ring appearance in more than 3½ years—and it was just like the last time. He ranted, he clowned and he predicted a victory in rhyme.

In March 1967 he retained his world heavyweight championship by stopping Zora Folley at the old Madison Square Garden.

On Monday he was back in the new Madison Square Garden, dazzling several hundred enthusiastic followers in a 70-minute workout for his 15-round bout Dec. 7 against Argentine Oscar Bonavena.

It is only Ali's second fight since being deposed as champion for refusing military induction—but a victory would set up a dream bout with his successor, champion Joe Frazier.

And Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, has no doubt he'll be the first man to kayo Bonavena.

"It's been a long time since I put my predictions in rhythm and rhyme,

"But it was Bonavena who started it all by getting out of line ..." the 24-line poem began. And as the crowd shouted "Right on!" he climaxed it with:

"Before round nine is out, "The Referee will jump and shout,

"Th-th-th-that's all, folks, "This turkey is out!"

"I couldn't keep quiet," he told the crowd later from the center of the ring at the Garden's Felt Forum, referring to Bonavena's prediction that he would stop Ali in 11 rounds.

"That's my bag, I'm the one who predicts and calls it right. If there's anything I don't like," Ali grinned, "It's a fighter who talks too much."

Ali carried on a conversation with his delighted followers during his sparring sessions, then stunned them by slumping to the canvas as he traded punches with Los Angeles heavyweight

Bunkey Atkins.

The gasps turned to cheers, though, as they realized Ali was putting them on. "There are people who want to see me knocked down," he explained.

8 Starters May Miss Game Sat.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Razorback Coach Frank Broyles Monday read a list of eight starters that would probably miss the "Big Shoot-out No. 2" with Texas Saturday.

The injury list included tackles Roger Harnish and John Turner, guards Ronnie Hammers and Mike Griffin, defensive halfback Robert Dew, monster Steve Birdwell, defensive back Jerry Moore and tailback Bill Burnett.

Broyles said there was a chance Moore and Burnett might be able to see limited action. Moore suffered a deep bruise in his thigh against Rice on Nov. 7 and Burnett is recovering from a shoulder separation suffered in the Texas A&M game.

Harnish, Birdwell and Turner are suffering from knee injuries. Hammers and Griffin both have ankle injuries.

"I can never remember having this many injuries at any one time," said Broyles.

The Porkers worked in pads for about 90 minutes Monday. A similar workout was planned for Tuesday.

Dolphins Rip Falcons in Pro Play

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Mercury Morris and Larry Csonka ripped Atlanta's touted defensive unit to shreds and Bob Griese added the big play touch as the Miami Dolphins kept alive their hopes of reaching the National Football League playoffs with a 20-7 victory over the Falcons Monday night.

"We just got whipped in every phase of the game," said Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Falcons following the weekly national television (ABC) attraction.

The triumph boosted Miami's American Football Conference East Division mark to 7-4, leaving it 1½ games behind Baltimore. Each has three games remaining, with all of Miami's at home against the New York Jets, Boston and Buffalo.

However, Miami still has another shot at a playoff spot by compiling the best record of division runnersup.

The only other teams approaching the Dolphin mark are co-leaders in the West, Oakland and Kansas City, both with 6-3-2 records. They still must face each other.

The Falcons never were in the game in the first half when Morris dashed for 71 of his 76 yards on the ground and added a vital 49-yard return of the opening kickoff that set up a field goal.

He also had a 27-yard run in the field goal drive and sprinted 40 yards in the second quarter to set up Jim Kiick's one-yard touchdown plunge that helped the Dolphins to a 13-0 lead.

Atlanta, which hadn't penetrated the Miami 40 in the first half, took charge in the third quarter, holding the ball the first 10 minutes and driving to the Dolphin 21. Berry, on fourth-and-one, Bob Berry crossed up the defense with a pass to the end zone.

Art Malone stepped under the lob at the goal line, but the ball appeared to squirt through his arms, ending that threat.

Don Hansen then intercepted a Griese pass and returned it 15 yards to the Miami 40. Berry drove Atlanta to a touchdown.

Then Csonka, who compiled 70 of his 108 yards in the final half, sparked an 80-yard scoring drive for the Dolphins. He capped the march with a one-yard run with less than three minutes remaining.

Griese, who attempted only 11 passes and completed eight, said he preferred to stay on the ground after the Dolphins found they could run on Atlanta.

"If we can win without throwing a single pass, then that's okay."

Berry also threw well, hitting 18-of-24 for 160 yards, but most were short yardage tosses over the middle.

Bunkey Atkins.

The gasps turned to cheers, though, as they realized Ali was putting them on. "There are people who want to see me knocked down," he explained.

Broyles Says No More Dec. Shootouts

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: The Texas-Arkansas game in future years may decide the Southwest Conference title and may be on national television.

... but it won't be in December. "I said after last year I'd never do it again and I pleaded with them not to ask me," recalls Frank Broyles of Arkansas.

"But it just couldn't be avoided. However, I'll never agree to it again, although never is sometimes the wrong word to use."

Broyles has support from his friendly enemy, Darrell Royal of Texas, who'll be on the other side of the field Saturday for Shootout No. 2, a rerun of last year's 15-14 thriller won by Texas.

"I'm not gonna do it anymore either," says Royal. "For one thing, school starts earlier now and final exams are before Christmas."

While Saturday's winner goes to the Cotton Bowl, the possibility exists that the loser of the game between the nation's No. 1 and 4 teams will stay home on New Year's Day. If Louisiana State beats Mississippi Saturday night, the Tigers go to the Orange Bowl, filling the last available opening. If LSU loses, though, the Texas-Arkansas loser wins the spot.

Both coaches knew the situation when they agreed to change the game from its original date on Oct. 17.

Royal and Broyles are such bosom pals that they flew to Los Angeles together in a private plane to scout Notre Dame against Southern Cal over the weekend.

"Notre Dame didn't get one break and there were numerous big plays," explains Royal.

President Nixon won't be at the Texas-Arkansas game, like he was last year. "He told me then it was the last plaque he was ever giving, so I'd better hang onto it," said Darrell Royal.

The Army-Navy game drew its smallest crowd ever in Philadelphia—95,151—but its TV ratings in New York were third highest of the season ... topped only by the Notre Dame-USC game that followed and Notre Dame-Missouri earlier in the year. Army-Navy also beat two Monday night pro games.

Spa Fans Seek to Send Team to Cotton Bowl

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Hot Springs radio station KBHS has begun a campaign to raise $3,000 to send the Hot Springs High School football team, the coaching staff and their wives to the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl game in Dallas, Tex.

The Trojans finished the regular season with a 9-0-1 record and then won the Class AAA title in a playoff with Jonesboro. Today, Hot Springs was named the No. 1 team in the state in the final Associated Press high school poll.

Hot Springs Tops State Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"It's a coach's dream come true," was Coach Bobby Hannon's response when he learned his Hot Springs Trojans had been ranked No. 1 in the season's final Associated Press high school football poll.

The Trojans received five first-place votes from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters to capture the state championship.

Little Rock Catholic was second and Little Rock Hall was ranked third. Catholic, 10-2 for the season, received two first-place votes and Hall received three.

Jonesboro, ranked second last week, dropped to fourth after losing to Hot Springs 14-9 Friday night and North Little Rock, top-ranked last week, dropped to fifth following a 21-16 loss to Catholic Thanksgiving Day.

Fort Smith Northside finished sixth, followed by Stuttgart, Arkadelphia and El Dorado. Rogers rounded out the top ten.

Stuttgart, Arkadelphia and Rogers were the top three teams in Class AA and Rison, Prescott and Marked Tree were ranked 1-2-3 in Class A. The top three teams in Class B were Magnet Cove, Luxora and Horatio.

Hannon said Hot Springs had been under-rated all season. "We were taken for granted," he said. "I knew we had something going after the third game. We have the finest and most dedicated kids I've ever coached."

This year was Hannon's first year as head coach at Hot Springs. Starting quarterback Ronnie Young said he thought the Trojans surprised a lot of people. "Hot Springs has been a team that everybody looked forward to (playing) because other teams considered us a pushover," said Young. "I think we have started a tradition that will stand for a long time."

Alcindor Is Running Away in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, Milwaukee's young superstar, is still running away with the National Basketball Association scoring championship, but one old gaffer beats him for accuracy.

Jumping Johnny Green, Cincinnati's amazing 37-year-old, overtook Alcindor's field goal percentage, hiking his average from 57.8 per cent to 59.1, ahead of Alcindor's 57.6 in this week's statistics released today.

Alcindor retained his scoring lead at 32.5 points per game, while the battle for second place raged behind him. Elvin Hayes of San Diego moved up from fourth with 28.7. John Havlicek of Boston remained third at 28.6. Lou Hudson of Atlanta dropped from second at 28.0 and defending champion Jerry West of Los Angeles remained fifth at 27.3.

Dick Snyder of Seattle was still the best free throw shooter at 88.3 per cent. Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles still was tops in rebounding at 20.4 per cent and West still was the assist leader at 10.0 a game.

Phils, Boston Still Close in Pro Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Philadelphia and Boston began the night nose-to-nose—and after some close calls they were still closer than Siamese twins.

Boston opened the National Basketball Association double-header at Philadelphia's Spectrum—Monday night's only two NBA affairs—by squandering a 22-point third-quarter lead against Buffalo before beating the Braves 109-106.

Then Philadelphia allowed Baltimore to all but wipe out a 13-point fourth-period gap before beating the Bullets 104-98 in the nightcap.

In Monday night's only American Basketball Association game Denver whipped Memphis 103-93.

The Celtics and 76ers began the night sharing second place in the Atlantic Division. Their victories kept them deadlocked but reduced the idle New York Knicks' lead to five games.

Boston, which held a 78-56 lead midway in the third period, found itself trailing 102-101 before Steve Kuberski put the Celts ahead again. John Havlicek, who finished with 38 points, scored Boston's final six to lock up the game.

The 76ers watched as Baltimore came from an 89-76 deficit to just a point back at 99-98 before Hal Greer's three-point play in the final minute deflected the Bullets. Baltimore's Gus Johnson topped all scorers with 20 points.

Denver pounced on the Pros by scoring the first 10 points of the fourth quarter to go ahead 82-78 and the Rockets never relinquished the lead. Larrah Cannon of Denver won game scoring honors with 33 points.

Cowboy Charged With Indecent Exposure

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Lance Rentzel of the Dallas Cowboys, charged with indecent exposure involving a 10-year-old girl, was on the inactive list at his own request today while he settled his personal affairs.

The 27-year-old star wide receiver of the National Football League team will be unavailable to the Cowboys for a minimum of two games.

"He will work out with the team as time permits," said Cowboy president Tex Schramm.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade told the Associated Press it will be at least 10 days before the grand jury gets the case. The felony charge carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Telephone calls lit up the switchboard of the Cowboy offices after word was released Monday that Rentzel, the husband of television star Joey Heatherton, had been charged with exposing himself before the young girl.

The offense report was filed Nov. 19 in suburban University Park. Rentzel posted a $1,500 appearance bond Nov. 23.

Rentzel, who holds the Dallas Cowboy single game record of 13 catches for 233 yards, made no immediate comment on the charge.

A native of Flushing, N.Y., Rentzel grew up in Oklahoma City and became a high school All-American at Cassidy High School. He later starred with Oklahoma University.

He was with the Minnesota Vikings' NFL team when he was traded to the Cowboys in 1967 for a No. 3 draft choice.

Before that, on Oct. 4, 1968, Rentzel pleaded guilty in St. Paul, Minn., to a charge similar to the University Park morals count.

A municipal court judge in St. Paul did not sentence Rentzel but ordered him to seek psychiatric care.

Highly Rated Cage Teams Open Season

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three of the nation's highly rated teams get collegiate basketball underway tonight—but the season won't be official until several days later when UCLA begins the defense of its national championship.

Adolph Rupp, the winningest coach in the history of the hoop, leads the University of Kentucky—No. 3 in The Associated Press preseason poll—against Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

The fourth-ranked University of Jacksonville, which stunned Rupp's Wildcats in the NCAA championship tournament last March, is expected to breeze by Biscayne and No. 5 Notre Dame will tussle with Michigan at Ann Arbor in tonight's other major openers.

Rupp starts the season with an all-time record of 836 triumphs and expects to add plenty more to the mark as the Wildcats go after their fourth successive Southeastern Conference crown.

Jacksonville's Dolphins, with 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, and the Irish, spearheaded by high-powered Austin Carr, will also be eyeing the national title UCLA has won four straight years and six of the past seven.

Shrine Game Starts Lining Up Players

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach John Pont of Indiana will have 13 Big Ten players on his East team for the 46th annual Shrine East-West football game Jan. 2.

Michigan and Northwestern, which tied for second place behind Ohio State in the Big Ten race, each placed three players on the squad named Monday. The all-star game will be played for the first time at the Oakland Coliseum.

Michigan's Don Moorhead will share the East quarterbacking job with Leo Hart of Duke. The other Wolverines on the team will be offensive tackle Dan Dierdorf and linebacker Marty Huff.

Northwestern's Mike Adame, the top rusher in the Big Ten this year, will be joined on the team by teammates Mike Sikich, an offensive guard, and Rick Telander, a linebacker.

Other running backs on the Wicks, will also face a severe challenge from No. 2-rated South Carolina, which opens its season Thursday against Auburn. UCLA gets underway Friday against Baylor.

Other top opening-night action will have New Mexico at Colorado, Arizona at Seattle, Nebraska at Wyoming, Ohio State at Utah State, Florida State at Texas, Long Beach State at Kansas, Princeton against Duke at Greensboro, N.C., Louisville at Vanderbilt and NCAA college division champion Philadelphia textile at Villanova.

28-man squad include Stan Brown of Purdue and Jim Braxton of West Virginia.

Pont's team will report here Dec. 22 and practice at Santa Clara University. Assistant coaches will be Carmen Cozza of Yale and Earle Edwards of North Carolina State.

Says British Horses Have Derby Chance

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — English horses are notorious extroverts, have sensitive feet and don't like to get dirt in their eyes but one of them is capable of winning the Kentucky Derby, insists trainer Bill Boland.

Gaillard, for instance. "It's just a matter of adjustment," says the dapper, little ex-jockey, a Derby winner himself aboard Middleground back in 1950. "A horse must adapt to the different racing conditions in this country. This colt looks very promising."

Gaillard is a strapping 2-year-old foaled in Ireland and campaigned in England, shipped to the United States by a 40-year-old wine and spirits tycoon, David Sandeman, who is determined to become the first English owner to see a garland of roses draped around his horse's neck at Louisville.

Thwarted in his first bid a year ago when the $100,000 Double Splash went bad, Sandeman has now put a second challenger in Boland's hands and told the 38-year-old trainer to go get it.

Gaillard has been getting acquainted at Belmont. He was shipped Monday to Hialeah where he probably will make

Spring Hill Nips Perry's in Overtime

In action last week in the Hempstead County Men's Independent Basketball Association, Perry's Truck Stop suffered its first loss of the season. Dropping a 104 to 96 game to the fired up Spring Hill his U.S. debut in late January or early February.

The 95-year-old Derby has been won by three foreign-born colts, Omar Khayyam in 1917, Tomy Lee in 1959 and Northern Dancer in 1964. The first two were foaled in England and the Dancer in Canada but they did all their racing in the United States and Canada.

"What pleases me most is how Gaillard has adjusted to U.S. conditions," Boland said.

"English horses, who race on turf, usually don't like dirt tracks. It's hard on their feet. They slip and slide. They are distracted by flying dirt in their eyes. But Gaillard seems to like the dirt."

Wants a New Probe of Kent Shooting

NORTHBORO, Mass. (AP) — Joseph Rhodes Jr., a member of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest, says a federal grand jury should investigate the shooting deaths of four Kent State University students in a campus confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen last spring.

But Rhodes, a 22-year-old junior fellow at Harvard University, told some 50 parishioners at the First Congregational Unitarian church Sunday he had no confidence such an inquiry would be undertaken.

Rhodes asserted "There were a few guardsmen who committed second degree murder. They went there with premeditation meaning intending to kill students."

Dark Circles Under Eyes? Just Your Veins Showing

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Doctor—I have dark circles under my eyes. I notice a lot of women have them. What causes it and what can be done to cure it?

Dear Reader—If you will examine the skin under your eyes, you will find it is thin and delicate. The large number of veins under the skin cause the bluish color. You can usually observe the blue color of the veins on the back of the hand. This color is normal for veins. The veins under the eyes are more easily seen in persons with delicate skin, which is why this is more often seen in women.

Although the bluish color is often attributed to fatigue and a "sluggish circulation," it is doubtful that this has anything to do with it. It is more common with weight loss or illnesses that cause weight loss because of the decrease in the fat pads under the eyes and upper cheeks that help obscure the veins.

When you lie down more blood pools in the veins in the face. In babies with very thin skin this makes the blue circles under the eyes more prominent. In some people there is a tendency to accumulate a small amount of fluid around the eyes at night while lying down. The puffy eyelids obscure the veins. As the puffiness goes away during the day the dark circles caused by the veins become apparent.

Just remember, dark circles under the eyes usually have no important meaning relative to your health. There really isn't anything to cure. Cosmetics could help.

There may be more value in some spring water than skeptics thought. It really isn't all madness. Alkaline spring waters were used in the fifth century to treat "mania," a form of uncontrolled high level of activity or "madness." The practice was continued for centuries, then fell into disrepute. Now Dr. Bertram Brown, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, announces that studies have shown that lithium (once used as a salt substitute) is useful in treating certain agitated states (manic phase of manic depression) and may even help with the depression. And what did the alkaline spring water have in it? That's right—lithium.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know if a girl can get pregnant and still be a virgin. Could she possibly get pregnant if a boy just tried but left her a virgin. Can this happen?

Dear Reader—It hasn't happened in 2,000 years. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

When Helen Sobel married Stanley Smith she retired from serious tournament bridge for several years. Then, in 1968, she came back to win the National Mixed team championship with us and Minda Brachman of Dallas.

Helen was not a scientific bidder but she made up for lack of science by an extraordinary ability to make winning decisions in bidding or play. Oswald Jacoby had not played with her for over 25 years and their system was a simple JACOBY MODERN. They used weak two-bids, limit raises and good no-trumps. When Jacoby asked her how to handle forcing raises, she replied: "We'll work them out when we get to them."

When Jacoby opened today's hand with one heart, Helen had an opportunity to work one out. She decided to use the "Treat-em-rough-and-tell-em-nothing System" and went right into Blackwood. Even if the slam wasn't a good one West might not find the lead to beat it.

The slam was a good one, indeed. Jacoby drew trumps with two leads and proceeded to discard three clubs on dummy's long diamonds. Then he came up with a neat play to get away with an overtrick. He led a spade to his ace, got back to dummy with a trump and led the jack of clubs.

East knew that Jacoby had started with five hearts, two diamonds and six black cards. Failure to ruff a spade indicated that five of these black cards had been clubs so East held back his ace of clubs, whereupon Jacoby covered with his king and stole an overtrick. Not that the overtrick made any real difference. The slam was not bid at the other table.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The budgerigar is a bird of the parakeet family which is prized by pet owners because of its ability to imitate tones of the human voice. The World Almanac says a budgerigar named "Sparkie Williams," owned by an Englishwoman, is reputed to have had a vocabulary of 531 words. The bird's last words were, reportedly, "I love mama."

Friendship Doesn't Count on Saturday

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Like schoolboy chums, Darrell Royal of Texas and Frank Broyles of Arkansas sat next to each other, scribbling notes on the Notre-Dame-Southern California game.

Then they joked and laughed en route from Los Angeles to Las Vegas, where Royal said he watched the Louis Prime and Trini Lopez shows.

The Longhorn coach finally got back to Austin at 11 a.m., Sunday, an hour before his staff began mapping plans to beat Broyles' Razorbacks next Saturday.

"It gave us a chance to visit on a lot of things," Royal said. "It was a lot of fun."

But now it's all business.

Royal told a news conference Monday he was locking all visitors out of Texas' workouts at Memorial Stadium this week for the first time since he became coach here in 1957. Campus police will guard the entrances.

"Good friends, or brothers—even blood brothers—should not come to Memorial Stadium," Royal said. "We have distractions enough, and we'd like an hour or an hour and 45 minutes (each day) with no distractions at all."

The top-ranked Longhorns probably need all the practice they can cram in for Arkansas, which fought Texas to a standstill last year only to fall, 15-14, in the final four minutes.

"More (Texas-Arkansas) games have been decided in the final three minutes than have not," said Royal.

He recalled that he was "inightly nervous" last year, "and there's not much difference this year. This is the kind of week," he said, "when your palms are wet and your stomach's turning over. 'It's kind of a miserable position, yet I like it. It's what the game is all about, this kind of competition. I always dreamed of getting in a contest like this...."

The game will match the nation's highest scoring team—Texas—against the second highest scoring team and also the Longhorns nation-leading rushing offense against Arkansas's second-ranked rushing defense. A Memorial stadium crowd of more than 68,000 is expected, and the game will be televised nationally. The winner faces Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

Told that one Southwest Conference assistant coach had said Texas would have to abandon the Wishbone-T offense which it has made famous to beat Arkansas, Royal was momentarily speechless.

"What, oh what," he must have thought, "is my old friend Frank cooking up now?"
